and rain and made themselves as comfortable as they could under the circumstances. The head of the establishment, a Chilian, wilderness a month ago, and the latest accession to the company, a Spaniard, had enjoyed its calm seclusion but for a few days, having been only last week dismissed from the Spanish cruiser Aragon on account of his supposed connection with the disappearance of $80 belonging to one of the officers. The only visible means of subsistence among them was thirty cents in cash and a small quantity of rice. Inspector Gauld brought the men before Mr Wodehouse yesterday, lest they might develop into a band of bushrangers, and they are now detained as rogues and vagabonds.

Hongkong was startled-or amused-some two weeks ago by a rumour that a real live tiger had made its appearance in the Kowloon peninsula and was showing a distinct, predilection for young pigs and old women. The news came to the ears of three mighty chieftains, who determined to outrival the deeds of Mesers Leyburn and Harding at Amoy. Accordingly the other evening. before the moon had sunk tenesth the ho rizon, our three worthies quietly left that gem of the orient, Kowloon City, and made straight for the tracks of the great beast of prey. En route they purchased a young pig wherewith to bait their enemy, it being of course impossible to find an old lady willing to sacrifice herself. The tracks were duly discovered and closely scrutinis-One of the hunters, who knows some double entendre meant-hinted that the tracks in question could not be those of tiger or any animal of the cat tribe, but must be those of a wolf, wild dog or some such animal. This opinion somewhat damped the ardour of the heroes, but after a little cogitation under the moonlit sky, their doubts vanished; and fully convinced that destiny had chosen them to uphold the reputation of Hongkong, they tied up the piggie in a position where it would be speedily discovered by the tiger as he made his nocturnal promenade, and set out themselves for a small emineuce about 300 yards from the spot. There they took us strong position and laid down to await the course of events. At length, after their patience had been somewhat tried, they heard—or at least one of them, whom we will call Nimrod-heard a pattering of feet, which he was aure betokened the approach of the tiger. The moon was sinking fast, but by 14 : Bengloe, Electra. 18 : Westmeath, the big body of the wild beast approaching steadily towards its prey. Not a moment was to be lost. He raised his gun, took aim and fired. It was a capital shot. His companions were sure Nimrod had rolled the tiger over, and that death had been so quick that the animal had not time oven to utter a growl. The three bunters at once ushed down from their eminence and made for the spot where the bait had been laid. The light of the moon had almost faded, Mr Pollock, instructed by Mesers Wotton but, they groped their way along and and Descon, appeared for the Plaintiff (Mr. reached the scene of death. THE PUBLIC SCHOOL. To the Editor of the CHINA MAIL Sir. I have great pleasure in announcing that Mr Belilios has this afternoon, at a meeting of the Public School Committee, most kindly promised to erest at his own expense a suitable building for the Hongkong Public School, together with a bouse thing about how tracks are made-no or the Headmaster, on the sole condition (with the exception of an arrangement for providing for an endowment Fund) that five hours be devoted daily to secular instruction during the cooler months from the 1st September to 1st June, and four hours during the months of June, July and August. This munificent and publicspirited offer relieves the Committee of most serious embarrassment in the prospect of obtaining from Government the site asked for on Kennedy Road, and confers a great boon on the increasing number of families who are unable to send their sons to England for education. Ten years ago Mr Belillos was the first to come forward with a large gift which has contributed considerably to our present endowment Fund, and it is a matter for great satisfactien to those who have steadily stood by the school ever since to know that by the munificence of the same friend, it is now to have a permanent home of its own. The responsibility on the Committee is now greater than ever to increase the efficiency of the teaching staff. As more boys can be received in the future school, more teaching

S. I. Danby, broker-In June last year I had large destings with defendant in Rope shares. I don't remember the number, but it was a large number, I should say 500, on time the same day; 95 for 31st Jan. 600 or 700 I bought for defendant. told me they ought to be worth a good deal more than their price then as the rise land would give the company a good profit. At first business was done at 876 and then as high as 890. He said they ought to be worth $125 and something over. I. believe that all that time defendant held from 1.500 to 2,0 0, because it was currently reported so, and I knew he made large purchases and was not selling any. The defendant, I think, told me he could buy the whole company and double as much. He said nothing to me about co-operating. I can't now what he meant by that. I don't know what opinion to form of it : he might have said anything. He asked me to go and see up some of the directors about moving the factory and selling the land it was on at a handsome profit: whether he or his Chinese or God only knows, who was going to purchase I don't know; that was what he said

His Lordship reproved the witness for the expression he had used. Witness, having begged pardon of the Court, proceeded :- Defendant made no proposal on the antiect, but simply wanted me to go and suggest to the directors to move the factory to a cheaper site. He gave me orders to buy Ropes for you take of it. him, but I don't remember what the extent of the order was. The order I had from him first was without limit. I could not gay now to what extent I should have considered myself justified in buying for him. During the present year I put through some transactions in Ropes for him. Or 1st October last I bought 754 at $71 for delivery on let January. The transaction was completed and he sold them on 14th January this year, 500 at $381; on the 15th he sold 4 at $93; same date 100 at $92 cash: and on 18th 150 at $92 for 31st January. On 13th February there were 200 shares bought 100 at $200 and 100 at $185 to cover 200 shares due to my firm b him. Defendant was to deliver 200 shares about 3rd or 4th February which had been lent by the firm, and as he did not return them I on the 13th February purchased the 200 shares I have mentiouse to cover that. The prices were the lowest I could get them at on the market. I gave the defendant police of this and he promised to make good the difference, but he has not done so vet. I believe the amount was something like $37,000 including another fifty shares. The difference was something like $17,000, which is still owing. I had some other transactions in Ropes in February, but they have nothing to do with "this case. They were as follows :- On the 4th 25 shares at $99 for 31st March : on 5th 50 shares at $100 for same date : on 13 h 125 at $125 cash; on 29th March 125 at $156 for delivery next day. At the defendant's express wish I gave him a memo for the 200 shares at the rate of $120, he promising to make the difference good if I did so. I presume he wanted that to make the rate of the market and compel the others to sell cheaper. He said very deeply about at the time, not only as inconveniencing the trade, but as inflicting a serious and, as it appeared to them, a totally unnecessary loss upon the company.

However, the vessel has been lost, and no more can be said about it. With regard to other casualties we have not had anything of much moment to complain of. The vessels that navigate the rivers there are constantly liable to casualties. The condition of the Woosung Bar is a source of constant complaint. Our vessels have met with
